Inverting the arc-length function

We have the following